

Nectarine

Why's the pool half full?
I don't recall the night before
I've been taking days off work to bask in this golden glow
How've you been?
Where's the car?
Why's my face in your front lawn?
Maybe I'll see you next week or see what the tiles on my floor have to offer

The haze is never ending
Mid-afternoon I'm caught depending on the touch of the restless sun
Feels too good
I don't need no one
How've you been?
Where's the gloom?
May's long gone and so is June
Maybe I'll see you next year or see if this semi-charmed life can deliver

If everything is fine then let's go for a ride
There's no way I'm staying here all jaded
If this is all that's left then I'll just stay in bed
Since summer's almost gone let's get faded

And this feels like the last time but I'll still say I'll see you next time
And this feels like the last time but I'll still say I'll see you next time
And this feels like the last time but I'll still say I'll see you next time
And this feels like the last time but I'll still say I'll see you next time

College Area

Hey man!
Do you still hate your rad dad?
Are you still smoking in the mornings?
Is that your friend or you just fucking?

Hey dude!
I'm kinda sad that there's no rent due
You know I'm really gonna miss you
And the light hearted late night drug use

Wait guy!
Turn around and look one last time
College love took you a long ways
Now you're just sad at work on weekdays

Space Program

You've got some friends that think that they will get you back in a few days in a few ways
But you've got other plans - a special day to leave this place on a Thursday

Suicides and GoFundMe's are not a way to live through your twenties
So press your friends a little harder so that you can love in your thirties

Times like this it's hard to see the sun
Times like this it's hard to see the sun

Free Agent

Head down
I'm off everyday
Almost broke again
I'm having fun okay?!

My best friends' voices I can hear now everyday remind me
"Right now somehow I'm in the right place"

Do you really re-do what your work asked before they fucked you?
Do you repay any bad friends or are you looking out for you?

Motorcycle

Go back to school again
Call it your restoration
Where are the friends you made?
Do you see their desperation?

Who are your teachers now?
Is it just you by yourself?
Good friends move far away
Do you feel like they did now?

I'm still so proud of you
And your high education
But did you think you'd be this mad at state post-graduation?

Jay Owen

A family's talking in their sleep
I hear the things they say of me
Personal best in my ignorance and selfish forgetfulness

Worst Team Ever

Can't you see this place is falling apart?
Can't you see this place is falling apart?
You've got things on the floor and...
You're rushing out the door and...
You're never home anymore and...
You don't care any more and... and... and...

There's roaches in the room now
I'm crawling through the door now
Keeping all of my floor friends at an arm's length from their end
Yea... yea... yea...

And can't you see your life is falling apart?
Can't you see your life is falling apart?
Can't you see your life is falling apart?
Can't you see your life is falling apart?

Spanish Moss Superbloom

I don't smoke anymore
I bet you never thought you'd hear that before
Just kidding, I'm alright
You probably can't see how I cope in my life

And I'm supposed to believe we'll go from lovers to friends in a few weeks?
And sure Salt Lake City is sweet but what's your point for starting over from nothing?

Facefucked by bad circumstance that chokes you out every single chance you let it get into your head

Crasher

Of course you're running backwards doing circles in my room
We're throwing rocks at cars in backyards because we still think its hard to lose
Half asleep — how could you actually be listening?
4am — how could I ever get to sleep again?

Last week I kept track of all the time I spent being sad about some shit that hadn't happened yet
But this week I called my parents and I rode my bike
Tore some leeches off my back and finally saw a fight

If it's true, would you tell me I'm only halfway through?
'Cause if it's all a lie I'll remember how we sped through life before we made a move

True Blue

Say nothing more
I'll melt with you this time
We're coasting past the cove
Where we sifted with the tide
It's just a reminder of when we were younger
Wearing every moment present by my side
And you'll be driving, thinking nothing
And she'll be ashing out the window wondering if you're still there
I'm half asleep and the whip is swerving
Glistening true blue shimmer keeps me in a daze
Why can't I seem to hold onto old ways
I should listen to my Dino Jr. tape
And you'll be driving, thinking nothing
And she'll be ashing out the window wondering if you're still there
I'll always tell it like you would
Wishing I could go home
Further than the farthest state
A reminder of why I first left
Caught and bound but I'm nurturing my soul
I'll write you before I go
Go far with what you really know
Since everything is out of our control
Always, cut & sew, this scene is all I know
